

Visualizing Collaboration in The NEXT

Collaboration is weighted by number of works on which entities (individuals and groups in roles such as "creator" and "contributor") have collaborated, using Fruchterman-Reingold force direction. Colors identify the largest groups according to modularity class (modularity = 0.811).